

SEMI-WEEKLY INTERIOR JOURNAL.

VOL. XVIII.

STANFORD KY., TUESDAY, JANUARY 27, 1891.

NO. 95

LANCASTER, GARRARD COUNTY.

—Mrs. S. T. Lavel, an excellent christian lady, died Saturday, of pneumonia, aged 40. Her husband and one son survive her.

Professor Fitzsimmons disposed of Professor Dempsey at New Orleans a few days since in 13 rounds. When professor meets professor look out for bloody noses. And now Dr. Tenner has challenged Succi to a 30-days' fast. When foot meets foot, look out for empty stomachs.

It is said that a calculation has been made showing that the State of Texas alone could accommodate the entire population of the globe, estimating it at 1,500,000,000 persons and then have a population of only 7 or 8 to the acre. As the people of the "Lone Star State" seem to be getting along very well raising cotton, corn, cattle and sweet potatoes, they are not likely to desire a practical test of the question of the location of the entire population of the world upon their territory.

"Remove temptation from the path of youth," as the frog said when he leaped into the water to escape a shower of stones in the hands of a bevy of mischievous urchins. And this calls to mind the dangers that would attend the removal of the capital from the said old city of Frankfort to the gay and festive metropolis known by the euphonious name of Louisville. If the Solons who congregate at the capital from time to time cannot be controlled while under the surveillance of the demure and circumspect denizens of so saintly a city as Frankfort, what could be expected of them, when the bars were let down, and they were turned out to graze in the green and violet-scented pastures of the largest city in the State? The horse that has his bay and ten years of corn measured out to him regularly three times a day is in no danger of foundering, and may be safely trusted for a day's drive at any season of the year, and this applies with equal force to men, who, while under the restraints incident to seclusion from temptation are comparatively innocent and harmless, but when beset by the allurements of fashionable life, make sad havoc with their good names and pass from bad to worse with frightful rapidity. The danger of indulging the appetite for strong drink is increased by the multiplicity of dram shops, and the rattle of the dice in the gambling dens would be more enticing when heard in places comparatively secure from observation. True, there are churches with gilded spires that tower heavenward in the metropolis, to which the Solons could have access, and to which they would doubtless be invited, but who could tell the numbers of those whose minds were engrossed by the difficult problems of statecraft, who could be induced to forego their official duties long enough to attend the services of the sanctuary? Aside from this, it should be remembered that most of our lawmakers are those who are fresh from the country; who have been prudent and temperate in all things, in fact abstemious, if not located in close proximity to any first-class double-and-twisted, breech-loading sour-mash institution of learning, and who in the sublimity of their innocence would be liable to be led astray by designing men, who would not be slow to lead them into temptation, hoping thereby to profit in the matter of free drinks and a good time generally. What a harvest there would be for the bunco-steerers and pickpockets upon the assemblage of the manufacturers of the law from time to time. The arrival of the jolly old legislator with his grip sack filled with his best suit of clothes, a farmer's almanac, a col pipe and a few pounds of leaf tobacco and fifteen or twenty dollars in his wallet to pay board and washing until pay day, would be a sight to inspire the inveterate hackman, as well as the drummer who calls hastily for "de Fil Avenue Hotel, sar!" There would not be lacking those who could show him the best place to secure a snifter of tangle-foot at the cheapest rates and tender him a welcome to the hospitalities of the city. To the man raised in the country, who is accustomed to retire to rest when the chickens go to roost, whose peaceful slumbers are not disturbed save by an occasionally growl from the honest watch-dog, who rises at daylight, partakes of his frugal meal and starts upon his daily toil, it is quite a risk to make so wonderful a change of habits as the removal, though temporary, from such a life to one of an entirely opposite character in a city. Imagine the feelings of the tired member when kept awake by the incessant jingle of bells, the noise of wagons, the snort of the iron horse, the whistle of incoming and departing steamers, as well as the change from the old-fashioned feather bed to the mattress, whose springs keep him rolling from side to side and in perpetual motion. Witness his consternation at breakfast when presented with a bill of fare carefully prepared in French, and from which he is expected to select what he may desire to gratify the cravings of an appetite accustomed to be satisied with a reasonable portion of rich sweet milk, jowl and greens and corn bread. Observe his curiosity as he views the sable waiters clad in spotless linen and spade-tail coats, moving round in dignified silence, thinking chiefly of the tips they are anxious to receive. But greatest of all, what is he to think when standing before the august clerk, whose diamond pin stands out like the headlight of a locomotive, in bold relief upon a shirt front of matchless purity, scanning the honest, though homely, member from the county of Whangloohie! May the honest, industrious, prudent, temperate and well-meaning old legislator be kept from temptation is our prayer. The morals of the law makers would be rendered more secure, the work performed in less time and the laws enacted with greater reference to the public good, if the capital were located in some country village, where there was only room enough to shelter and lodge the members.

CRAB ORCHARD.

—The storm party at Miss Hannah McClure's was an enjoyable affair.

—The partnership of Pettus & Zeller is dissolved and those indebted to them, either for drugs or medical services, are requested to call at Pettus & Zeller's and settle, if they wish to save costs. Im

—The firm of Gilmore & Lee, of Louisville, having fallen through, throws our genial young friend, H. D. McClure, out of a position, but we are in hopes he may get another soon; and we think he will, for he is a wide-awake and energetic young man. Some of the merchants here have lost a little by them.

—Mr. Clay Anderson and Miss Maud Adams, of Preachersville, met Elder J. G. Livingston on the Crab Orchard and Otterheim pike Sunday afternoon and demanded him to tie the knot for them, which he very willingly did. They certainly mean business and we wish them much happiness in their matrimonial venture.

—Rev. J. B. Jones, who has been with us some days, had to leave Saturday, owing to a severe cold, which he thought would lead to a hemorrhage of the lungs, which he is subject to. We were very sorry to see him go, as the people were very much interested in his sermons. Bro. S. Collier now fills the pulpit. Much good is being done.

—Miss Pearl Newland, of Brodhead, is the guest of her aunt, Mrs. Alice Newland. M. Livingston, who travels for Abe Block & Co., of Cincinnati, is in town this week. Mrs. Eliza Arnold, son, Eddie, and little daughter, of Lancaster, were the guests of Mrs. Alex Beasley Saturday and Sunday. Miss Lottie Dillon, who has been sick for some time, is convalescent. Mr. J. H. Stephens is confined to his room with a deep cold. J. W. Guest and wife, of Danville, are guests of Mrs. Laura Moore.

DEATHS' DOINGS.

—D. B. Cundiff, a well-known citizen of Pulaski, is dead.

—John A. McRoberts received a telegram Saturday stating that his brother, Joseph R. McRoberts, of Denver, Colorado, was dead. He had been sick for several weeks with peritonitis, but not until Friday afternoon did Mr. McRoberts hear of it. The deceased was 31 years old and leaves, besides a wife, an 18-month-old child. His remains were interred at Greeley, Colorado, the home of his wife.

—Miss Octavia Bronaugh, born and reared in Mercer county, died at the home of her sister, Mrs. J. B. Tingle, in Louisville, Jan. 19, 1891, of catarrhal fever. In her praise volumes might be spoken, but even strangers may know the true Christian life she lived by the following extract from her pastor, Rev. W. A. Borman, at the Harrodsburg Baptist church, January 20th. The preacher said: "This young lady, when I came here a stranger, was among the first to offer to introduce me to the rich poor, the high and the low, as with her everybody was dear who truly loved her Savior. In deeds of charity, she was noted, in visiting the sick and afflicted she had few equals." She was not afraid to die and stated on her death bed that if she could only see her dear grandmother in Mercer once more she would be willing to go. An extended funeral notice can be seen in the Harrodsburg Democrat next Friday.

A FRIEND.

—Fannie Barnett, masquerading in men's clothes, was driven out of Paris this week. She is the woman who wore a false beard against the Pugh brothers, of Fleming county, and sent them to the penitentiary, charged with violating her person, where they spent several months before new evidence secured their pardon. She is also charged with being the cause of one man killing himself and the cause of a woman and child being killed accidentally while returning from a visit to the Pugh brothers while in jail at Flemingsburg.

—The Nebraska Supreme court has given a decision virtually sustaining Gov. Boyd in his position.

CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION.

—Mr. Miller wants a reform in the collection of taxes. The cost is now 11 cents on the dollar, whereas in some States it does not exceed three cents.

Of one thing the convention may rest assured and that is that the people have not a particle more confidence in its patriotism, good sense and business capacity than they have in the gentlemen they select to represent them in the General Assembly.—Covington Commonwealth.

It is a deplorable thing for a county to have a delegate in the constitutional convention who is an ass, and more deplorable to have one who is an infidel, but to be represented by a man who is both an ass and infidel—as in one of our southern counties—is calamitous. See speech lately made by one B. F. Bennett, which is a tissue of puerile atheism and irredeemable assmunity. —Jessemine Journal.

—Delegate Miller opposed the section of the report on municipalities which requires that councilmen, legislators and others shall be elected from a city at large, instead of by wards and districts, because he claimed it was undemocratic and in violation of the principles upon which American institutions were based. He made a plea for minority representation, declaring that this system would turn over a city to one or the other party, whichever happened to be in a majority in the entire city, to use the patronage for all time as it might see proper. Mr. Miller failed to convince his hearers and the report was adopted.

—The body disposed of the municipal report quite expeditiously for such a slow-moving concern. For cities of 15,000 population and over the tax shall not exceed $1.50 upon $100 assessed valuation; for cities and towns under 15,000 population, not to exceed $1; for counties, not to exceed 50 cents. A limitation was likewise presented to the incurring of municipal debts, as follows: For cities of the first, second and third class, not to exceed 10 per cent. of the total valuation of all taxables, for cities and towns of the fourth class, not to exceed 5 per cent., and for cities and towns of the fifth class, not to exceed 3 per cent.

FARM AND TRADE ITEMS.

—M. F. Elkin & Co. bought of Jones Bros. a lot of 125-pound hogs at 3 cents.

—J. C. & Montie Fox, of Boyle, bought of Robinson, of Garrard, 10 sugar mules at $110.

—J. C. Tucker bought of Rockcastle parties 27 head of extra good mountain cattle at 2 to 2 1/2 cents.

—Silas Anderson sold to John Anderson a pair of mules for $270 and to G. A. Silas a lot of yearling heifers and steers at 2 cts.

—E. R. Sparks has purchased the Geo. S. Shanklin farm, three miles from Nicholasville, containing 333 acres at $85 per acre—$28,305.

—The entries to the various races at Latonia this spring have closed with a total of 843, the largest number in the history of the course.

—Tate & Catron have bought the past week 6 head of 1,000-pound cattle of James Gover at 2 1/2 cents, a car-load of shipping cattle at 2 to 2 1/2 cents; 2 car-loads of sheep at $3.50 per head; a car-load of hogs at 2 1/2 cts; also two large mules of West Gilliland for $325.—Somerset Reporter.

—The cotton crop of the South, worth at least $500,000,000, was grown on 19,000,000 acres of land. The crop equals in value the total crop of the United States, which requires 75,000,000 acres and is more than $100,000,000 greater than the value of the entire wheat crop of the country, which was grown on 30,000,000 acres.

—Jesse Martin bought 20 yearling mules from Earnest Dunlap at $75 and 18 from James Withrow at $72. R. H. Davenport has bought during the past week from Jesse Martin and H. F. Rogers 3,000 bushels of wheat at 92 cents per bushel, and from J. W. Brooks 1,000 bushels at 90 cents.—Midway Clipper.

—Embry & Dunn bought of Nick Perkins, of Garrard, 7 year-old mules at $111. Ike Dunn sold Wednesday to W. W. Sandidge, of Lincoln county, 100 ewes at $5.75 per head. D. N. Prewitt has engaged about 10,000 lambs from various parties in this section at $5 and $6 for May and June delivery.—Advocate.

—Jolly and capable S. F. B. Morse, having resigned the office of general passenger agent of the N. N. & M. V., Charles L. Brown, heretofore general freight agent, is appointed general freight and passenger agent, with headquarters at Lexington. The appointment is effective Feb. 1. It is hoped and believed that Mr. Morse will remain with the L. & N. on the K. C.

—The court of appeals has decided that the cases of the Perry county gang were properly transferred to Clark and that the members will have to be tried there.

—The fire chief, one fireman and two other persons lost their lives by a tenement house fire in Jersey City.

HUSTONVILLE.

—Reid & Smiley shipped their crop of White Burley tobacco this week to the Goldman House, Cincinnati, which had made a very satisfactory offer for the same.

—All the Hustonville sportsmen were allied one day recently on a big rabbit hunt and bagged 85 of the rodents. The wonder is that some of the hunters were not winged.

—Rev. J. H. Riffe filled the pulpit of the Baptist church Sunday and Sunday night. He will most likely preach two Sundays in each month for this church during the remainder of '91.

A paragraph in Friday's issue suggests the suggestion that when the suggester suggests "something he taken" the suggester here generally supplies the suggested—"Barkis is willin'."

—The Christian College Society held an open meeting in the College chapel Friday night, which drew a crowded audience. The performances were various, exceedingly creditable and enjoyed by all.

—A corps of surveyors spent Friday making a diagram of Moreland, even to the dimensions of the various buildings, and even the most ingenious enrioso was unable to extract an inkling of the design. A few of the Grannies surmise grand railroad extensions and connections are imminent.

—George A. Prewitt, the excellent—in fact, the incomparable—clerk of the Casey county court, passed through here Friday with wife and baby on a visit to the old folks at Brodhead. Wm. Myers, the bachelor judge of Casey, was also in town Friday. We are glad to see in your Casey news that the judge's uniform success in his numerous candidacies has emboldened him to enter in a race for matrimonial honors. The judge's extreme modesty has hitherto handicapped him heavily, but the knowing ones have confidentially given us a tip in that ring, and our money goes on William. Mrs. M. G. Thomson and daughter are visiting father and grand-father at Vanarsdell, Mercer county. Miss Mae Logan will visit her brother Sam at Middleboro. Mrs. M. F. Bradley will leave today for Calera, Ala., to spend the remainder of the winter with her daughter, Mrs. George S. Wright. Miss Alice Wright has gone to your town on a visit to her cousin, Mrs. Wood Green. Mr. Kyle Bohon, of Decatur, Ill., is visiting Kentucky relatives. Mr. Wallace Steele and wife, nee Minks, are visiting 1. F. Steele. Joe S. Wright, the boss lapicide of Kentucky, was here Friday erecting in our cemetery some handsome specimens of his skill. Mr. Minor Vanarsdell, of Harrodsburg, was here last week in the interest of a Louisville tombstone firm. Miss Bettie Logan leaves today for Birmingham, Ala., to visit her sister. George Bradley has gone from Birmingham to Calera, Ala., and is learning telegraphy. Eddie Walton and Dr. A. S. Price, of Stanford, were welcomed by many of the elect here Sunday.

CHURCH AFFAIRS.

—Elder J. G. Livingston has accepted a call to preach for the London church this year. The meeting at Crab Orchard continues, with 8 additions.

—During the past 25 years the Methodist Episcopal Church has expended $3,000,000 in the work of christian education in the Southern States.

—Rev. T. P. Smith, of Tennessee, is conducting a revival at the Calvary Baptist church, Louisville and there were over 100 conversions in five days.

—Archbishop Ireland, of the Catholic Church, has issued an order forbidding all church fairs, lotteries and chance games for religious or charitable purposes.

—Rev. A. C. Hopkins, Sunday-school evangelist, will conduct a Sunday-school convention at the Tarnersville church, beginning Monday, Feb. 9th, and continuing till the following Thursday. The various Sunday-schools of the county are invited to attend.

—Evangelist Dixon Williams is holding a revival at Mt. Vernon, Ind. There have been nearly 500 professions of religion, and already about 200 additions to the various churches. There were but 400 Protestant Christians in that city of 5,000 inhabitants previous to the meeting.

—Rev. W. F. Noland, who held the quarterly meeting here, is one of the finest pulpit orators of his age in Kentucky. His two sermons Sunday, both from texts taken from 1 Tim. 4:8, were splendid efforts, the first showing the grandeur and capabilities of the "life that now is," and the second furnishing convincing proof that "Godliness is profitable unto all things;" that religion furnishes the only true methods to live by as well as die by. Both services were well attended, the last especially so, and the favorable comment of thoughtful people as they left the church would have been most gratifying to the young preacher if he could have heard them.

—Ex-P. M. General Vilas has been nominated by the Wisconsin democrats for U. S. Senator, which is equal to an election.

W. P. WALTON.

The Arkansas legislature, following the sensible lead of Alabama and Tennessee, decided to make no appropriation for State exhibits at the World's Fair in the event that the Force bill becomes a law. These legislatures hold that the enactment of such a measure will create so much discord and perhaps anarchy in the South that it would be a waste of money to use it for the purpose of inducing immigration. Such action as this ought to bring the radical conspirators to a realization of their revolutionary designs. So far in the preliminary steps toward the passage of the bill four republican senators have had the courage to rise above a purely partisan party measure. Stewart, Teller, Jones and Walcott, and if they continue to present a bold front the iniquitous bill will never disgrace the body by its enactment.

Since this action was taken the Missouri, Texas and West Virginia legislatures have adopted similar resolutions and in Illinois a resolution was introduced calling upon the senators to vote against the Force bill. The conservative men all over the country are opposed to the enactment of such a law, regardless of party affiliations.

The speech of Hon. R. P. Jacobs, on the question of taxation and exemptions, before the constitutional convention, is admitted by all who heard it as the ablest of the discussion. Judge Jacobs has not delayed the business of the body by airing his eloquence on every question considered; in fact he has shown that he knows when silence is golden, but when he does speak he has something to say and his words carry conviction and weight to sensible men. The member from Boyle is a big-brained, liberal-minded man, and as our Lancaster scribe intimated on one occasion, he could come nearer making the right kind of a constitution than any man in the body. At any rate our confidence in the man is sufficient to accept without question any that he would propose.

The reappearance of Lydia Thompson on the stage recalls the fact that some 20 years or more ago, her shapely limbs and saucy ways were the admiration of every male biped, who was fortunate enough to see them. She is the first woman that the writer ever saw without the regulation skirts and the revelation was a wonder to him. With the exception that age has brought on fleshiness she still presents a very creditable appearance in tights, although the rheumatism of 55 winters have somewhat stiffened her joints.

This calendar shows that this is the 27th, but in the National Senate it is still the 22d, the legislative day of Thursday last having been continued for the purpose of forcing a vote on the cloture. The republicans have a quorum now and can pass anything they wish, if, like Reed, Vice President Morton disregards all precedent and throttles the voice of the minority, that is if he can get a solid backing from his party, which now seems impossible.

MR. B. H. RIDGELY and his lovely bride have returned from a tour of Cuba and Sunday's Louisville Truth contains a graphic description of the scenes, manners and customs of that land of flowers, over the well-known non de plume of Bend Or. Mr. Ridgely is not only a graceful, but a most entertaining writer, whose productions are always enlivened by the humor that seems to almost bubble from his pen, without any apparent effort.

JUDGE JACKSON'S decision that the lotteries have rights that the legislatures cannot destroy, goes like cold steel to the heart of Dan E. O'Sullivan, of the Louisville Critic, who has fought the octopus for years with a determination which showed his earnestness. Hope springs eternal in the human breast, though, and Mr. O'S. is confident that the court of appeals will take decided issue with the Louisville judge.

The Somerset Republican spurns our offer to compromise the Reporter's slander suit against it and us, and demands an opportunity to make good its charges. As Bro. Lewis is better acquainted with the facts in the case than we are, of course we shall leave the matter to him and hereby withdraw our proposition. The fight is now to the finish and "d—n be he who first cries, hold, enough."

This is about the proportion all over the country. A poll of the Alabama legislators showed that 30 out of 33 senators and 68 out of 76 representatives are for Cleveland for president in 1892. The probabilities grow daily more certain that the race will be made up the same as in 1884 and that Grover will again put Blaine in the soup.

In the Ohio legislature a republican member, purely for buncombe, offered a bill to require that the U. S. flag should fly over all public schools. The foolish and costly proposition was voted down by the democrats and the radical papers of the State are raising their usual howl.

Referring to an article in this paper charging that the administration is making a bluff at a war with England, to draw attention from its miserable mismanagement of affairs, the London Echo quotes from an interview with Gov. McCreary, who endorses Secretary Blaine's policy, and adds that the INTERIOR JOURNAL should "consult its boss before it shoots off its squirt gun." Says the paper further:

"Mr. McCreary was for a long time Chairman of the Foreign Affairs committee of the lower House of Congress, and is now the head of the minority of that committee and knows what he is talking about."

He generally does. We hardly expected such an admission from this quarter, though, since on one occasion, as we are informed, after having been shabbily treated by its editor, the governor said with freezing dignity, when Mr. Dyche offered his hand: "I do not wish to shake hands with you, sir. I treated you as a gentleman, but having found out my mistake, I do not wish any further connection with you."

A scheme is now being engineered through Congress by contestants to not only pay the usual $2,000 allowed for such purpose, but all their expenses in making contests. As there are 34 contestants, this will take, if it becomes a law, more than $100,000 from the treasury, in addition to the $75,000 already paid contestants, many of whom contest simply to get the $2,000 and not the office.

GATTS says that Senator Carlisle told him in response to his interrogatory that John Sherman as a legislator, secretary of the treasury and politician had affected his day as much as anybody he could think of. Mr. Carlisle has great admiration for the Ohio statesman, whose frigidity of character is said to send all the thermometers to zero in the neighborhood of his person.

The dead-lock in the Illinois legislature continues, but Streeter, the farmers' candidate, having declared for a protective tariff and other republican measures, it is said that two of his followers will desert him and thereby elect Gen. Palmer, a consummation devoutly to be wished.

The Owensboro Messenger and the Paducah Standard are calling lustily on Mr. Clay and Dr. Clardy to express themselves on the sub-treasury scheme, but so far they 'tend like they don't hear 'em. Come up to the scratch, gentlemen, it's got to come and the sooner the better.

The News, Uncle Ben Harrison's daily at Bowling Green, has sunk after less than a month's effort to keep its nose above water. We were fearful that Uncle Ben was too old to learn new ways, and was surprised that he should have been lured away from his old home.

SENATOR STEWART, of Nevada, cannot be whipped into the party traces by the radical leaders. He spoke Saturday against gag rules and the Force bill in such a vigorous manner as to make the old setting hens in the Senate madder than ever.

NEWSY NOTES.

—C. W. Warren, the absconding Middleboro merchant, was captured in St. Louis.

—A snow storm in which fish an inch long largely figured, is said to have raged in Nashville Saturday.

—Lucy Dwyer Young, eighth wife of Brigham Young, is dead. The other seven wives are still living.

—The strike on the Chicago & Erie road has been settled by the discharge of the chief dispatcher and traffic has been resumed.

—Two firemen were killed and two others injured in a fire at Buffalo N. Y., which destroyed in addition about $300,000 in property.

—The rate to the New Orleans Mardi Gras has been fixed at 14 fares for the round trip. The rate is the same on all competing lines.

—The First National Bank of Medicine Lodge, Kas., is in the hands of the government examiner. Assets $82,000; liabilities $50,000.

—Mrs. Higbee, the Meade county woman who poisoned her five children, has been declared insane and taken to the Anchorage Asylum.

—The Illinois legislature will offer a bounty of 3 cents for the heads of English sparrows, the little pests having become so troublesome.

—James Wood, the attendant at the Eastern Hospital for the Insane at Richmond, Ind., was given 21 years for kicking a lunatic to death.

—A man in a New Jersey roller mill was caught and drawn through iron rollers set half an inch apart and had every bone in his body crushed.

—A brute at Springfield, O., named John Doyle, strangled his aged mother to death in a drunken frenzy. Short work ought to be made of him.

—A freight train on the Louisville Southern was run into by the west-bound passenger train, and John Davis, a brakeman of the freight, was killed.

—The internal revenue collections aggregate $75,697,143 for the last 6 months, an increase of nearly seven millions over the corresponding time of last year.

—A Kansas City saloon that stood across the Kansas and Missouri line, was cut in two by Kansas authorities and the Kansas end of it torn down.

—The Cincinnati Southern has cut the rate to southern points and a war between it and the L. & N. is promised.

—The steamer Silas P. Coe was burned at Cincinnati by the explosion of a lamp. Watchman Catney was burned alive; loss $18,000.

—Geo. Harris, the Newbern, Ill., faster, still stubbornly refuses to take any nourishment. He remains in a stupor most of the time. This is his 31st day.

—The House committee has agreed to report favorably the bill to appropriate $10,000,000 to repair and build the levees from the head of the passes to Cairo.

—The State prohibition executive committee has been called to meet at the Fifth Avenue Hotel, Louisville, Jan. 29, at 12 o'clock, to consider important business.

—Mr. and Mrs. Vestal Beeler, of Martinsville, are getting some newspaper notoriety now from the fact that they have had 19 children, 18 of whom are living.

—There has been stored along Hudson River this season 4,335,800 tons of ice, the largest crop ever gathered, and is sufficient to supply the demand for two years.

—John K. Aydelotte, editor of the Entler County Democrat, at Hamilton, O., was crushed and mangled to death by being caught by the rapidly revolving wheel of a gas engine.

—Gilmore & Lee, a pair of smooth young Yankees, who opened a commission house in Louisville and did a big business, skipped out Saturday, owing everybody that trusted them.

—With between 500,000 and 600,000 pensioners already on the rolls, the list is increasing at the rate of 20,000 a month, over 10,000 new names being added the first 15 days of this year.

—The largest tannery in the world, says the News, is nearly completed at Middleboro and operations will soon begin. The company already has 10,000 tons of tan bark on the ground.

—The L. & N. is pushing its extension to Norton, Va., where it will connect with the Norfolk & Great Western, giving it the shortest line to the seaboard. The connection is promised by May 1.

—As a choice between two evils the democrats of the North Dakota legislature joined with the republicans and elected ex-Congressman Hansborough senator over Pierce, the present incumbent.

—An immense avalanche of snow fell from the cliffs of the phins of Abraham into Champlain street, Quebec, half a mile from the scene of the disastrous landslide of 1889, which caused the death of 52 people.

—Senator Cameron was shown before the investigating committee to have invested $100,000 in silver bullion before the passage of the silver bill on which he netted $15,000. That's the way unscrupulous politicians get rich.

—The Crown Prince Baudouin, heir to the throne of Belgium, died rather unexpectedly at Brussels. It is intimated that he suicided because his father had the woman with whom he was infatuated, banished from the kingdom.

—Epp Moore, who murdered Harvey Steele and David Campbell, in Knox, killed himself on the day set for his trial. The killing of Steele was particularly cold-blooded and Moore's neck would have paid the penalty in any other section.

—During his two years as governor of Tennessee Taylor pardoned 801 convicts, giving 15 their liberty on the last day of his term. That's the kind of governors that have disgusted the farmers and made them assert themselves by electing Buchanan.

—A fire which nearly wiped out the town of Seaville, Washington county, raged Friday night. Sen's store-house and contents, Crowder's store, the post-office and other buildings were consumed. It is thought that the stores were fired after being robbed.

—Senator Ingalls has gone back to Kansas to see if he can fix up those fences, but before his departure he paired himself against the Force bill. His chances seem somewhat improved since 13 Alliance men voted with the republicans against tabling the petition of some old soldiers asking the re-election of the jayhawker.

—Judge Jackson, at Louisville, has decided that the Wortham law against lotteries is void because it interferes with vested rights granted under the constitution and violates the spirit of our fundamental law against class legislation. The court of appeals will be given a chance to wrestle with the question.

—An English syndicate has purchased the Lookout Mountain Land Company's property, including the railroad from Chattanooga to the top of Lookout Mountain, the Lookout Inn, about 600 acres of the best located property, the celebrated and historic "Point," Rock City and the Lullah Lake and Falls for $1,000,000.

—The Lexington Leader says that Mrs. J. Harry Lang, of Midway, formerly of Paris, daughter of Elder John S. Sweeney, of that place, ran away from her husband, home and children to elope with Jack Green, a handsome bar-keeper, with whom she had become infatuated, but Mr. Long followed and succeeded in bringing the woman to her senses.

P. S. Mr. Wm. Remington, of the Paris Kentuckian, telegraphed the Press that this story was unqualifiedly false.

The Louisville Store.

The Greatest Bona-Fide Clearing Sale that was ever inaugurated in Stanford was started by us on Monday, January 26, 1891. Every article in our House was offered at and below cost.

The Wind - Up

Of this great sale will occur next Saturday, 31st inst. In order to make this the most remarkable sale that ever occurred in our midst, we will offer the balance of our Winter Stock at prices that are actually LESS than the cost of the material. Remember this sale

POSITIVELY CLOSES

On January 31st, 1891. Dry Goods, Clothing, Boots, Shoes, Hats, Carpets and Trunks, all the odds and ends in these departments must be closed out if prices will do it, to make room for Spring Goods, which are arriving daily. 2,000 yards of Embroidery left from last week's sale will go at 1c a yard, worth 5c; yard-wide Cotton at 5c, worth 6 1-2c; extra heavy Cotton at 6c, worth 7 1-2c; Blue Calico at 5c a yard, worth 7 1-2c; Plaid Cotton at 5c a yard, worth 8 1-2c; Gingham at 5c a yard, worth 7 1-2c.

Read these True Blood-Curdling Prices

THE + LOUISVILLE + STORE

Main Street, Stanford, Ky.

A. URBANSKY, Proprietor.

—Forty miners were killed and 30 injured by an explosion in a colliery in Germany.

—Mexico is the greatest silver producing country in the world. Last year her product was $15,000,000 to $16,000,000 in the U. S.

—Terrible snow storms have blocked railroads and all other means of communication in Southeastern Russia and isolated cities and towns are suffering loss of life and needed supplies.

—"Old Hutch," the Chicago speculator, who engineered the big wheat deal a few years ago, has been forced to retire from business by his sons, because he has lost all of his $20,000,000, lot one.

—One of John Robinson's elephants got sick at Cincinnati and a whisky toddy was given him, the formula for which was as follows: Three gallons of whisky, five gallons of molasses, one barrel of water. The recipe does not commend itself to the experienced taste. There is too much water and sweetening and too little of the exhilarator.

—War is threatened between the State and Federal authorities in Marion county. A deputy marshal arrested a man named Green for violating the internal revenue laws, but on a writ of habeas corpus, Judge Russell dismissed the prisoner. The authorities at Louisville telegraphed the deputy to disregard Russell's order and bring the prisoner anyway, and this was the status of affairs at last reports.

PERSONAL POINTS.

Miss ERSA COURTS is quite sick of malarial fever.
GROVER W. RUSSELL, of Milledgeville, has been granted a pension.
Miss LUCY ADAMS, of Garrard, is the guest of Mrs. M. A. Beazley.
Miss LOU DENNIS is visiting Miss Jennie McKinney, in the West End.
Miss ELLIOTT, of Lexington, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. J. P. Jones.
Miss LENA TOTTEN, of Garrard, is visiting her brother, Mr. J. F. Totten.
Mr. HARRY L. DAVIS, of Paris, Texas, is visiting his uncle, Mr. A. K. Penny.
Mr. and Mrs. J. B. OWENS, of Harrodsburg, were up to see friends Sunday.
Prof. H. M. GRANT, of Harrodsburg, spent Sunday with his parents at Lancaster.
Miss BETTA THOMAS, of Louisville, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. W. B. McRoberts.
—Ben HARDIN, of Monticello, was here last week visiting his brother, Mark Hardin.
Miss LAMIA DAVIS left Friday for a month's visit to Mrs. J. T. Johnson, in Louisville.
Miss MAGGIE TUCKER, of Maywood, was the guest of Misses Annie and Lizzie Menefee.
Mr. JAMES L. RAY, of Buckeye, has been visiting Mr. Geo. B. Weagen and other friends here.
Mr. JAMES BROWN, Jr., of Grays, was down Sunday to see his mother, who has been quite ill.
Miss EVA BRIDGEMAN, of the College faculty, went again after a very severe spell of rheumatism.
Misses ALICE THOMAS and Mary and Lizzie Carter were guests for several days of Miss Kate Hall.
Mrs. H. C. FARMER has been confined to her room for several days with a severe case of La Grippe.
Mrs. B. F. DAWSON, who has been visiting her mother, Mrs. Liza Farnell, returned to Middlesboro last night.
Mrs. FRANK HARRIS has returned from Chillicothe, and is pleasantly domiciled in the Capt. Richards house, on Lower Main.
Miss KATIE WHITE, of Hubble, attended the quarterly meeting and presided very gracefully and satisfactorily at the organ.
Miss M. A. BEAZLEY and daughter, Miss Ethel, have returned from a visit to Mrs. Will Hays, of the Bryansville neighborhood.
Mr. J. C. McCLARY has rented the cottage owned by Mrs. B. VAN ARSDEL, on Hustonville street, and will go to housekeeping.
Mrs. H. R. CANNITZ and Mrs. Wm. Wright, of Hustonville, were down Sunday to see Mrs. P. W. Green, who has been quite sick.
Mr. and Mrs. T. J. FOSTER and Master Foster McAlister, went over to Nicholasville Saturday to see Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Metcalf.
Misses ANNIE and MARY ALCOCK returned from America, Ga., yesterday, where they spent one of the happiest months of their lives.
Dr. L. R. COOK, who is attending a course of lectures in a Cincinnati medical college, was over a few days to see his wife, who was sick, but is better now.
Mr. JEFF JONES, of Stanford, was here this week visiting his brother-in-law, Mr. O. V. RILEY. Mr. Jones is the owner of a number of choice lots in Pineville, which he refuses to sell, as he expresses great faith in this place.—Pineville Messenger.
The New Albany man was here again Sunday, inducing the belief by the frequency of his visits that he is making a strenuous effort to take away one of our lovely young ladies. The other claimants would do well to watch this Hoosier man.
Miss MARY KAY, of Hustonville, was down to attend quarterly meeting. Her term of the public school closed a week ago, but she commenced a subscription school at once with 25 pupils. This shows how highly she is thought of as a teacher in that section.
Mr. J. W. LARKEY and family will remove this week to Parkland, a suburb of Louisville, where Mr. Larkey and his boys have secured employment.
Mr. Larkey is a strictly honest, hard-working man and his friends, while regretting the move, hope it will prove financially advantageous to him.

CITY AND VICINITY.

FRESH cranberries at P. Hampton's.
Go to Farris & Hardin's for mixed pickles.
Go to The B. F. Rout Co., for fresh apple butter, pigs feet, etc.
Your account is ready and must be settled. W. B. McRoberts.
SUNDAY and yesterday were as pretty days as ever came in wintertime.

WANTED.—Fresh Yellow Butter at A. A. Warren's "Model Grocery."
RATS carried away a young man's false teeth a few nights ago and that youth has been gnawing it since.
A big lot of Dr. Warner's health corrects to close out the line at $1 each. Joe S. Jones, Cash Bargain Store.
THIRTEEN pounds of granulated sugar for $1; Arbuckle's coffee 25 cents per pound. Cash Bargain Store, opposite Portman House.
Look out for your property to be advertised if you do not settle your tax. I am compelled to wind up my business. T. D. Newland, Ex-S. L. C.
The Pineville Messenger says that City Clerk Harvey Helm made $50,000 last week in a few hours. He did it by signing the bonds to that amount authorized by the city council.
W. R. McPHEE has transferred his entire interest in the notes and accounts growing out of their store at Rowland to J. H. McPherson, who calls upon all indebted to the firm to come forward and settle.
The Advocate says the county levy of Boyle has been fixed at 134 cents, which is 10 cents less than Lincoln's. The poll tax is $2, however, which is double ours. The county judge got his salary raised $100 and so did the county attorney.
ONE YEAR.—Our readers will remember that about a year ago, John Mayhew, a Harrodsburg tough, cut John King of Crab Orchard, in a very cowardly manner, severely injuring him. Friday he was tried for the offense and let off with one year in the penitentiary.
Mr. H. J. THOMAS continues to dispose of lots in his addition to Rowland. He says that 52 houses have been built there and in other portions of the town during the last few years and that all of them are occupied and paying the owners from 15 to 25 per cent. Houses that cost $500 to $600 are in big demand and rent right along at $12.50 a month.
ANDREW ISSANE.—Mrs. Martha Barnes, of the Gilberts Creek vicinity, widow of the late Hughie Barnes, was tried before Judge Varnon, Saturday, and declared insane. The cause of her losing her mind is attributed to her change in life. She was ordered to the asylum at Lexington and will be taken over as soon as arrangements can be perfected.
It is now said that the E. T. V. & Co. will buy the Decatur, Chesapeake & New Orleans road, which is about three-fourths completed between Shilohville, Tenn., and Decatur, Ala., and which is to be sold by an order of court, with the intention of finishing it to Gallatin and then finish the Chesapeake & Nashville to a point on the Cincinnati Southern, possibly McKinney. If this is done it will not take much effort to have the line built from here to McKinney.
THEY WERE THERE.—Messrs. Harry Geor, T. R. Meals, Frank Maupin, H. F. Cunningham, Wm. Covert and Wm. Thayer were tried at Harrodsburg last week for shooting Section Boss Cummins. The first four were acquitted while the two latter were let off with a fine of $50 each. The jury was out over 15 hours and all of the gentlemen were compelled to spend a night in jail. Cummins has sworn vengeance on all of them and said in open court that if the jury did not give them a term in prison he would spend the remainder of his life in trying to kill the entire lot who took part in the shooting.
A PLEASANT surprise awaited Mr. and Mrs. Sam Wortham on their return Saturday. Mrs. Joe Severance, Mrs. H. K. Weagen, Mrs. Mattie Nevins and Mrs. Julia Hughes taking possession of their residence on lower Main street, had prepared an excellent dinner and invited a few relatives and intimate friends of the bride and groom to dine with them. When the new couple arrived and took in the situation, Mrs. Wortham said to an Interior Journal representative: "The exceedingly great kindness of these good women has almost rendered me speechless and I hardly know how to go about expressing our gratitude."
WILS HOWARD.—According to the dispatches from California there is no longer any doubt that Wils Howard, the Harlan county desperado, is in the penitentiary of that State serving an eight-year sentence for robbery. The governor of Missouri sent Detective Imboden, the man who arrested Wils Jennings, a relative of Howard, who is now in jail here, to California with a requisition for the Harlan outlaw. In order to identify him the detective took with him J. S. Bailey, of Harlan, who knew him well. When Howard, who was convicted under an assumed name, was brought into the presence of the men, Bailey said: "How are you Wils?" The desperado, surprised, answered: "I am your man. I am just as game as I ever was in Harlan county and I never was sorry for killing any man except your two mules." The governor cannot grant the requisition without pardoning Howard and this he is being importuned to do. Perhaps, however, it would be just as well to let him serve his sentence out. If brought back either to Missouri or Kentucky, where between them seven murders are charged to him, the chances are that he would finally escape punishment.

Go to Farris & Hardin for hominy flakes. They can be cooked in 15 minutes.
TAKE your eggs to The Cash Bargain Store and get 20 cents per dozen. Opposite Portman House. J. S. Jones.
JAIL FELL.—Marshal James Hamilton, of Lancaster, arrested 18 men and boys and one woman Sunday for "shooting craps." The jail was crowded to overflowing, but Jailer Rothwell was equal to the emergency.
The Advocate says that the 25th child was born to John M. Linney, 19 of whom are living, 12 boys, all democrats. He is a brother of Rev. H. M. Linney, and was under law, participated in many famous battles and has a rich store of reminiscences of his army life. He has had two wives.
Is the case of Sandifer against the Equitable Accident Insurance Co., appealed from Garrard county, the court of appeals affirms the lower court, holding that a man can not be regarded as voluntarily exposing himself when he rides on the platform of a train and is hurt, especially when he proved that by reason of the crowd on the train there was no safer place to ride and that the conductor permitted him to ride there.
The Louisville Times of Saturday had a bit of Boyle county's aspirant to the Legislature, Harvey Kincaid Hay, together with interesting facts in his history. Mr. Hay was born in Lincoln county and commenced the study of law under Col. T. P. Hill just before the breaking out of the civil war. The call to arms found him on the side of the now lost Cause and he joined the famous command of John H. Morgan. He was with it on the Ohio raid, where he was captured and confined 18 months at Camp Douglas. At the close of hostilities he settled in Boyle and has since followed farming. He is a staunch democrat and is thoroughly capable of making his county a good representative.
FIRE.—The residence of Elder A. C. Newland, in the upper part of the county, was entirely destroyed by fire Thursday night. When it was first discovered the roof of the kitchen part was in full blaze and it took but a short time to envelop the whole building. Nothing but a little bedding was saved and Mr. Newland estimates his loss at $4,500, which is complete, as he held no insurance. The house was an old one, but one of the best built in the county. Mr. Henry F. Newland and family lived in the same house and they also lost everything. Mr. Newland's neighbors rallied to his assistance the next day and soon had a pretty comfortable temporary abode built for the old gentleman, whom they hold in high regard.
MATRIMONIAL MATTERS.
A St. Louis justice has decided that a young woman is bound to return the gifts made by her rejected lover.
—Cyrus Estes and Miss Lena Reynolds, a pretty maiden of 17, were united in wedlock's holy bonds, near Waynesburg, Sunday.
—Mr. Reuben Curtis and Miss Mary B. Singleton obtained license Saturday and were married at the bride's father's near Waynesburg, Sunday.
—The Harrodsburg Democrat says that Col. B. C. Allen and wife will celebrate the 42d anniversary of their marriage on the 29th. No other couple in this section ever lived so long and so happily together.
—Miss Florence Cooper, of Louisville, who has attended several hops here, and, by the way, she is both pretty and vivacious, was married Wednesday to Mr. Charles Hulse, of Raleigh, N. C. The wedding occurred at the residence of Senator Vance, in Washington, and is spoken of by the dailies as being a very swell affair.
—Miss Mary Fogle, the handsome daughter of Hon. John D. Fogle, of Lebanon, will be united in marriage to-day to Mr. S. G. Banks, of Hillsboro, Texas, for which place they will leave at once to make their home. Mrs. H. J. McRoberts, a cousin of the bride-elect, went down yesterday to attend the wedding.
—Mrs. Jefferson Davis is in a critical condition at New York with heart trouble.
—It took E. W. Row, of Gallion, O., 58 days to starve to death, after being kicked in the stomach by a horse so severely he could not eat anything.
—Four houses in the vicinity of Bluefield, W. Va., were blown up with dynamite Thursday night and several people injured. It was the work of vandals and three are under arrest.
—"Six-Shooter Billy" and "Dob" Argonny, cowboys, fought a duel. Billy was killed, four bullets having hit him, and Dob, with three bullets in him, is dying, at Landers, Wyo.
—A storm similar to the one which raged here Christmas extended over New England and southern New York Saturday and great damage was done, in addition to knocking the telegraph wires silly.
—Ninety-one out of the 92 Alliance members of the Kansas legislature have pledged themselves to vote against Ingalls to the last and to support the Alliance caucus nominee. If they stick to this Ingalls' name is denied.
—At San Marcos, Tex., Mrs. Snyder was murdered by her husband, Sunday night, upon her return from church. They formerly lived at Rome, Ga. Snyder was quite wealthy. The tragedy was the fulfillment of an oft-repeated threat.

—LANCASTER COURT.—A good crowd was present yesterday, but little business of importance was transacted. Several mules changed hands at $80 to $150, and the Montana mares offered publicly sold at $38 to $70. A bunch of calves and heifers were taken down at 2 cts.
—At the annual meeting of the Middlesboro Town Company, the capital stock was increased from $2,000,000 to $3,000,000 and a 10 per cent. dividend declared. The sales for the year yielded a net profit of $1,140,000, out of which 10 per cent. dividends have already been declared. This result has been obtained by the sale of less than 64 per cent. of the company's lands.
NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.
JACK FOR SALE.
If not sold privately, I will on Monday, February 11th, county court day, in the town of Stanford, Ky., offer for sale of the best bred and one of the best bred horses in the State. He is nearly 16 hands high, black with white socks. Any one desiring to buy such a Jack can call and see him or address me at McKinney, Ky.

FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF STANFORD, KY.
Capital Stock.....$200,000
Surplus.....16,500
Attention of the public is invited to the fact that this is the only National Bank in Stanford. Under the provisions of the National Bank Act, deposits are secured not only by the capital stock, but by the stockholders' liability for an amount equal to the stock, so that depositors of this institution are secured by a fund of $200,000. Four percent dividends of this bank are made each year to the United States government and its assets are examined at stated times by government agents, thus insuring additional and perfect safety to depositors.
This institution, originally established as the Deposit Bank of Stanford in 1858, then reorganized as the National Bank at Stanford in 1863 and again reorganized as the First National Bank of Stanford in 1884, has had practically an uninterrupted existence of 37 years. It is better supplied now with facilities for transacting business promptly and liberally than ever before in its long and honorable career. Accounts of corporations, individuals, firms and individuals, respectively solicited.
The Directors of this Bank is composed of:
T. J. Foster, of Stanford;
J. W. Hays, of Harrodsburg;
J. W. Hays, of Harrodsburg;
S. H. Bingham, of Lincoln;
M. J. Miller, of Harrodsburg;
J. J. Harris, of Lincoln;
J. J. Harris, of Lincoln;

Administrator's Sale
As Administrator with the will annexed of J. M. Phillips, dec'd, I will, before the County Court door in Stanford, on Monday, Feb. 9th, 1891,
Offer at public sale, to the highest and best bidder the very desirable home, consisting of a House and lot, on the corner of Main and Danville Avenue, of which J. M. Phillips died possessed. The house contains a commodious kitchen and all the necessary outbuildings.
Terms of Sale.—Six and 12 months, equal payments; notes with approved security, made payable to myself as Administrator and bearing interest from day of sale.
W. E. VARNON,
Adm'r J. M. Phillips with will annexed.
READ THIS.
On Tuesday, February 10,
DR. HALL will be with us again,
And deliver one of his inimitable lectures. We have only to tell you to those who heard him to know whether it will pay you to go. These lectures are as pure and chaste as can be written in the English language, and we commend them to the young and old, the male, the female, the bachelor and every class of the community. The lecture is under the management of the Christian Endeavor Society. They are to be held as well as the speaker, so we hope all will turn out to hear him.
54 54 CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.
